Project Description:

Our team has undertaken the task of creating a landing web page for the FoodPanda app as part of the Industrial Web Contest 2023. To ensure the success of our project, we have a team of 12 members, each with their unique roles and contributions.

Team Roles:

- Idea Gathering: Our female team members are responsible for brainstorming and gathering creative ideas to make the landing page appealing and user-friendly.
- Color Combination: We have collectively decided on the color combination that is most suitable for the landing page, keeping in mind the branding and user experience.
- Code Implementation: Three of our skilled members will be dedicated to writing the code for the landing page, ensuring it is functional and visually pleasing.
- Documentation: The remaining team members will be responsible for documenting our project's progress, processes, and outcomes.

Color Combination for the Landing Page:

- Primary Color: Pink(#D70F64)
- Secondary Color: Black(#0000) and White(#ffff)
- Accent Color: Grey(#282828)

These colors were chosen to resonate with FoodPanda brand identity, evoking feelings of excitement and trust in the users.

Progress Update:

As of the current date, our team has made significant progress in our project:

- Idea gathering is ongoing, and we have generated several innovative ideas for the landing page.
- The color combination has been finalized, and our designers are implementing it in the design.
- Code implementation is in progress, with three team members actively working on the web page's development.

- Documentation is being updated regularly to keep track of our project's journey.

Conclusion:

Our team is enthusiastic and dedicated to making our FoodPanda app landing web page a standout entry in the Industrial Web Contest 2023. We are confident that our creative ideas, skillful coding, and well-documented process will result in a remarkable and user-friendly web page.

We are excited about the opportunity to showcase our project and compete in the contest, and we look forward to the judges' evaluation and feedback.
